Ohhh, I was born one night, one morn when the whistle went boom, boom

that should tell you all you need to know about me.
I enjoy life and want to help others enjoy it also.

I am the middle of 5 girls and then I went and gave birth to 5 girls! So many stories, so many blessings!

My Mom was a Home Ecominist and taught Home Ec in the school that I went to. Our biggest hassles were over the sewing machine. I'd rather be outside on the tractor.
To this day, there is a piece of surgical tape marking the 5/8" seam allowance on her sewing machine because of me!

I started quilting about 8 years ago, thinking I would be more mature and that maybe a man (Kyle – who turned out NOT to be male!) would have better luck getting through my thick skull.

I was facinated with the magic tricks of a “Disappearing
Nine Patch” and putting the puzzle together of “Twisted X’s”! The “Jelly Roll Race” is a quickie and another favorite is the “Stripper foundation block”.

There are so many different designs, people of all ages, lot of life experiences (advice) in every event that Snuggled In Hope has!
