

Volunteers provide new handmade quilts, pillowcases and other comfort items to children in need, covering them in warmth and hope

October 2025

Eleanor Roosevelt said, "Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it's the only thing that ever has".

Back in July , the following was written by a parent. It was tucked away in my files, somewhat forgotten. When I reopened the file today, it felt right to share with all of you now.

"Sending a note of gratitude! Our son recently attended Flying Horse Farms for the first time. His experience left a positive imprint. Activities, human connections, and new experiences a plenty topped his list. He was definitely not ready to come home. The afternoon we picked him up and started to unpack brought a surprise. My husband and I feared he inadvertently brought home his quilt from camp. He proudly assured us this was his to keep. He was even happy to show off a new pillowcase or two that he brought home as well in his bag. We emailed the camp to make sure there was not a mistake. Blessed to hear of the love you all share through your organization to this camp. These kiddos face hardships that many can't imagine nor will ever endure in a lifetime. A loving, beautiful quilt made by hands (and kind hearts) selflessly and rather anonymously helps to know their battles are seen and recognized.

Thank you for caring. Thank you for sharing love. Thank you for donating your time and abilities.

Our brave warrior is a cancer survivor due to answered prayers and modern medicine. God is good.

Thank you, T (omitted Mother's name omitted for privacy)"

Never forget that even the smallest actions that you might feel are insignificant are steps in the right direction.
