

Photo/Video Authorization

At Robots and Mud Pies π Preschool (RAMPP), an integral part of our curriculum is documenting the children’s work. In order to do this, we will take photos and videos of the children. These may be used in the classroom, posted on Facebook and/or posted on our website. The children may use photos or videos to write stories or for other creative activities. The teachers may use them to create learning materials and to document the children’s interests and developmental abilities. Images may be used in marketing materials. When posting photos or videos online or in any form outside of the school, the children’s names or any other identifying information will not be used. Photos or videos might also be used for print or television media (news stories) but additional permissions will be obtained from you in that situation.

We ask and insist that if you take photos or videos of your children at RAMPP events and other children or adults are in the photo/video, do not post any of this online and do not share via text, email or other methods without explicit permission from us and the parents of the children involved.
