THE GOOD GUYS WEAR WHITE HATS

In the 50's there were a lot of television shows with cowboys and Indians. There were some heroes from these programs including Roy Rogers, Gene Autry, and the Lone Ranger. One thing that most of them had in common besides saving lives was that they all wore white hats. It identified them with being one of the "good guys". The "bad guys" always wore the black hats.

There will come a day when the "good guys" and the "bad guys" are separated by clothing also. The good guys will be clothed in white robes of righteousness, and the bad guys will not. The best part about it, is that we get to choose to wear the white robe by inviting Jesus Christ to be our Lord and Savior. He takes our "bad guy" clothes and exchanges them for his robe of righteousness. Sounds like a winning plan, and should be a no-brainer, but many prefer to wear the black hat of sin. We make the choice before we die. After we die it is too late.

It is like the cowboys and Indians. The bad guys would always lose, and the good guys would win. Yes, there was a battle of "shoot'em up", but the good guys would win.

Have you chosen which hat to wear yet? I pray you go with the white hat. It will identify you with Christ. One day, he will call us home and because we have made the right choice, he will cause you to rule and reign with him. Just like those cowboys in white hats, there may be some battles, but because we wear the white, we win!
