ONLY GOD CAN MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN

Over the past four years I believe that God has given America a window of opportunity to take back what was lost under the previous administration. During that administration we saw a gay flag over the white house lit up. We saw the arch of Baal put up in New York. We have heard true prophets speak out and say repent while many others had voiced that “things were going to be wonderful.” We have heard an administration say that they would make America great again. Sadly, no man can do this. Only God can.

During this four-year window that God gave us, very little changed in the body of Christ. After visiting many churches while we took a sabbatical from Pastoring, we never, and I say never saw anyone give an altar call or see anyone go forward to receive the baptism of the Holy Spirit. How sad, that the church has become so complacent. The church has become divided on matters like Black Lives Matter, and also on abortion and homosexuality. Who would have believed even 20 years ago that this would ever happen? Why did this happen? My personal opinion is that most have lost the passion to win souls and disciple them. Sunday Schools and pulpits are full of people that want to see entertainment instead of a move of God. We have lost a generation to feel good messages and entertaining instead of discipling. Discipling means discipline. It takes preaching of the word of God under the anointing to bring people to repentance. Feel good messages will never do that. People leave church after church the same way that they went in the door. Yes, there are those that offer the truth, but the followers are small because the heart of many has waxed cold toward hearing the truth.

My heart truly aches to see a revival, but more than that I ache to see the fire of God hit the pulpit and change things from the pulpit to the pew. America took God out of the schools almost fifty years ago, and we are reaping the results today in our young people that have little respect for the word of God and discipline. We have become a nation that “lives on the plantation” and expects the landowner to take care of all our needs. We expect that person to “make America great again”. It will never happen. Only God can change the heart of a nation through repentance.

One thing for sure is after the results are in from the election, Jesus is still Lord. He is coming back soon. All the signs point to it. Will you stand before him on that day and say I wish I had, or will you hear “well done, thou good and faithful servant.”?
