

RUSSELL SANDERS
2-15-2024
A VIEW OF HEAVEN

Chapters 21 and 22 of Revelation describe heaven and the New Jerusalem to come. Its beauty is beyond anything we can comprehend.

A close relative had a near death experience and went to heaven. She saw the most beautiful flowers one could describe. The colors were translucent. Scripture tells us that the streets of gold are transparent like glass. The gates to the city are made of pearls. The walls of New Jerusalem are made of jasper and the foundation of the twelve floors are made of precious jewels including sapphire, emerald, chrysolite, chalcedony, sardius, beryl, topaz, chrysoprasus, jacinth, and amethyst. Some of these stones are so rare that we cannot identify them today.

The Lamb of God, Jesus, is the light of heaven, which is a light brighter than the sun, yet gentle on the eyes. The River of Life flows through the city and on either side of its shores is the tree of life, bearing twelve kinds of fruit year-round.

I would like to meet you there someday, my friend. But how would we connect? It is an unimaginably huge place. How would you find me? Do not look for me at the gates of pearl, nor on the streets of gold. Do not look for me in a mansion. Let me tell you how to find me. Look for me at Jesus' feet.

God made everything in heaven, and it is glorious beyond our comprehension. There is possibly only ONE thing in heaven made by man, and that is the scars in Jesus' feet and hands.

So...just look for me at the feet of Jesus!!