HELEN SANDERS
6-27-2021
DON'T LIMIT GOD

I knew a lady when I lived in South Alabama that never responded to prayer because she didn't want "to bother God" with her "little problems." She never took communion at church even though she was a regular attendee because she never thought of herself as "being good enough" to take communion.

By doing these things she limited God. Since God knows all about us and her, there isn't anything that escapes his knowledge. He is a know-it-all. How sad, that she limited God with her "wrong thinking."

She isn't the only person that is like this. Many think that God is too busy to take time with us, but to understand God we must realize that there is no limit to what God can do. I can say this by what I have read in scripture. Let's see, he walked on water. That's not a natural act. He opened the blind eyes. Imagine that; no surgery needed. He raised the dead. Now that one is definitely not in your "how to" manual as a Christian. He rose again from the dead after being put to death by crucifixion without any help from anyone. Now that is one that really hard to explain.

Then, when He was about to leave earth, he told His disciples that He would send us the "Comforter" to always be with us. The Comforter is Holy Spirit that dwells within our spirit once we are "born again." The scripture tells us that He will guide us into all truth. Now that's something to shout about!

No, my friends there is nothing to difficult for God. I have seen so many small and large miracles in my life. He has brought finances in when there was no money. He has had people call and encourage me when I was despondent. He knows every need we have. Yet it doesn't just come like candy dropping out of a dispenser. These things come through asking in faith believing that the God of the Universe cares about you.

Have you been limiting God? Well, stop! He wants to bless you because He is a good Father. It isn't based on how good we are, it is based on how good He is. Ask and you receive. God doesn't want you to limit Him!