

HELEN SANDERS
AUGUST 17, 2020
A PROPHETIC WORD

Here you are my child in the secret place. Yes, I have bid you come, and you responded to the call. Let me shower you with my love saith the Lord, for I love you with an everlasting love that no one can take away from you. Come rest by my side and let me hold you close. For soon things are going to change on the face of the earth that will cause you to want to lose hope, but you will have hope when you come here and rest by me. I would say that the hours ahead will test your faith, but surely you shall pass the test as you wait in my presence and hear the plan I have for you. I shall alter things that would bring harm and move things out of the way for your sake because of my love for you. For my child the enemy has asked to sift you and I have prayed for you not to fail. Yes, you have come to this hour and this place, and this is your place of safety and peace. I will show you the plan. I have a plan that will bring you comfort in spite of the things going on around you. For the trial that is to come is as great as the trial I had in the garden of gethsemane. You might even ask me to remove the cup that I have for you, but I will be with you through this trial, and I will help you drink the cup. I am going to guide you into the sweetness of my presence that shall sustain you. Oh the cup will be heavy, but it must come. It will come upon all those that have put their trust in me. Easy and painless is the way of those of no faith. The way is wide for them. Narrow is the way for those that are of true faith my child. Narrow, and tight, but I will guide you every step of the way as you come here and listen to me. For there is great darkness to soon come and you must not let my light slip from you. You must be willing to carry the torch and shine for me saith the Lord. I will sustain you in the hours ahead. I will comfort the wounds and remove your fears as you come here and listen to my voice. Now let me dry those tears and let me touch you saith the Lord. Let me hold you close and tell you the plan saith the Lord, here in the quiet place.