FOR SUCH A TIME AS THIS

When Queen Esther was confronted by her Uncle Mordecai that she must do something to save her people, the Jews, he told her that perhaps her whole purpose for being chosen as Queen of the kingdom may have been “for such a time as this.” (Esther 4:14b)

There is no mistake in God’s timing. Jesus was born “in the fullness of time.” He didn’t come one day early or one day late. He will come again, not one day early and not one day late.

Likewise, each of us have been born with a purpose in this season that we came into being. God, who is all knowing, knew you would be born, the exact minute, hour, day, and year. He knows everything about you and me. He knows the numbers of hair on our head, and every thought in our heart.

Perhaps you wish that you were born in a different century, but that wasn’t God’s plan. He needs you now. You may not be an evangelist that brings millions to the Lord, or a famous actor that brings godly movies to the screen, but you are needed in this season. One may never know this side of heaven just what all of our purpose was. Perhaps you encouraged someone one day that would have ended their life. Perhaps you are the parent or grandparent of a child that will discover a cure for a disease.

Rest assured my friends you were born for such a time as this. Not one day too soon, or one day too late. Seek the Lord’s face and He will lead you in your purpose whatever it may be. Like Esther, who was an orphan, God used her in a mighty way. Let Him use you too. I guarantee that one day in glory you will see how valuable your life was from heavens’ view.
