ART BREAKERS

Gaye Jones has been a member of the Art Breakers non-profit 501-C-3 association since its creation in 2007. Inspired by the original founders, Pier Fitts and Linda Brandt, The name Art Breakers represents "artists for the fight against cancer". The organization has been helping cancer patients with financial support for those costs not covered by insurance. For example a rent payment, a utility bill payment, assisting with transportation to doctor's appointments, grocery bills etc.. Besides the difficulty of dealing with the disease, the everyday costs of living can become overwhelming for a patient who is unable to earn a living while undergoing treatment. 88% of money raised goes directly to patients.
