“Tales of Natural Wonder”

December 28th, 2022

Dear EEAA Supporter,

The Environmental Education Association of Alabama (EEAA) will be hosting its annual conference “Tales of Natural Wonder” February 2-4, 2023 at Lakepoint State Park, Eufaula, Alabama. This conference has become an amazing gathering for teachers who incorporate environmental education (EE) into their classroom, as well as EE professionals from around the Southeast. It is the once a year opportunity for kindred spirits of the EE world to meet and share ideas.

EEAA would love to have your support this year as an exhibitor or sponsor. This is your chance to connect with teachers who are returning to their classrooms refreshed and inspired to share their new-found knowledge with their students and with EE providers who reach thousands of contacts through educational programming. Whether you come to the conference and set up an exhibit about your organization or support with a sponsorship, we at EEAA greatly appreciate you!

There are several levels of support detailed on this document. Please check the sponsorship level your organization desires. Sponsorship/Exhibitor payment can be made online by PayPal, by Purchase Order, or by check at the EEAA Conference Registration desk. We ask you to please have your Sponsor Registration turned in by January 19th, 2023. Please go ahead and register today at <https://www.eeaa.us/conference-> (click on “registration” for all types of registration, including sponsor/exhibitor). Remember, you will also have to make lodging reservations if you are staying at the conference site, Lakepoint State Park– we have several options, described on our registration page.

We hope you will consider these opportunities. Please feel free to contact me with any questions. I will be in touch with you as soon as I see you have registered as a sponsor or exhibitor. Looking forward to seeing you at Lakepoint State Park!

Warm Regards,

Susan Caplow
