"SIEGE OF YORKTOWN"

The Siege of Yorktown in 1862 was a pivotal battle during the American Civil War, lasting from April 5 to May 4. Union forces, led by General George McClellan, attempted to capture the Confederate stronghold of Yorktown, Virginia. The siege ultimately ended with the Confederate forces, commanded by General Robert E. Lee, successfully withdrawing and retreating towards Richmond. While the battle did not result in a clear Union victory, it marked a significant moment in the Peninsula Campaign and set the stage for future engagements in the war.
