

Mona Elshenawy

Mona Elshenawy assists healthcare systems with federal compliance of Community Health/Benefit and Title VI reporting and standards. As a public health and research professional, she understands the importance of building a strong business case for Community Health Worker (CHW) programs and advocacy. As a medical sociologist, she studies the complex ways in which bilingual communication transpires in clinical settings for Limited English Proficient/LEP individuals and accordingly advocates for a meaningful collaboration between medical language interpreters and CHWs."