

Ashley Torres

Ashley G. Torres is a first-generation Graduate from The University of Texas at Arlington, there she received her Bachelor of Science in Public Health. During her undergrad she was a Global Health research intern, Upon graduation Ashley worked For Medical city Green Oaks where she devoted herself to patient safety. Ashley is now working as a Community care navigator/CHW for Baylor Scott and white and with ambitious spirits, She hopes to serve and lead in community health for years to come.