About the ISOA

The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra Association is an all-volunteer organization that enthusiastically coordinates music education activities and fundraising events for the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra. Any person who is eager to further the interests of the Orchestra is eligible for membership.

Our collaborative work on common goals creates fellowship, raises funds, and inspires art. Through our volunteer opportunities, members of the ISOA share close bonds with both music and with one another. Close associations with staff and Orchestra members are just some of the benefits we enjoy!

- 3) Encourage audience development and attendance
- 4) Create and support fundraising projects
