

October 8, 2024 – Day 2, 111,812 of the Crisis of Identity

Title: Christianity and AI (Man-Made Intelligence)

Who are we going to Trust? Man-made intelligence is at the forefront of technology, but why? How does mankind solve problems? We have been discussing this topic in different segments of ITFL and we are going to look at this from the viewpoint of Christianity. What do we have to say about this technology and using man-made intelligence.

1. What is man-made intelligence
 - a. Online Etymology Dictionary
 - b. Merriam-Webster Dictionary Online

AI Will Shape Your Soul – Christianity Today, Kate Lucky, October 2023 Issue

“It’s important to recognize that we already have a technology strong enough to shape our minds and emotions. Silicon Valley’s brightest are scheming about ways to make it more powerful still, whether or not it acquires a soul. Our future with an advancing AI has implications not only for our relationships with artificial intelligence but also for our relationships with each other.”

Three Takeaways on how Pastors can use AI – Barna, Leadership, Technology, February 22, 2024

“While pastors have differing opinions of the merits and trustworthiness of artificial intelligence (AI), one theme stands out in Barna’s newest data on the topic: Three in four U.S. pastors (77%) agree that God can work through AI.”