River Otters of South Florida
ALLIANCE

The ROSF Alliance is a volunteer, non-profit organization supporting the mission of the River Otters of South Florida website: www.riverotterssouthfl.com. The mission of the River Otters of South Florida website is “to aid our understanding and interest in the biology, behavior, ecology, and conservation issues impacting the river otter in Florida, particularly south Florida, and to educate ourselves, our children and others about otters worldwide”.

The mission of the ROSF Alliance is “to provide, manage, and recognize volunteers contributing their time to assist scientists conducting research on the North American river otter in south Florida, and to raise awareness and funding in support of all current and future activities identified in the River Otters of South Florida website”.
