Introduction to Education Programs

River Otters of South Florida: Otter Research and Otter Education Programming

Education is the foundation upon which the River Otters of South Florida website was constructed. This is reflected in the following Mission Statement:

To aid our understanding and interest in the biology, behavior, ecology, and the conservation issues impacting the river otter in Florida, particularly south Florida, and to help educate ourselves, our children, and others about otters worldwide.

This educational foundation is repeatedly demonstrated throughout the contents of this website. The development and implementation of education programs, administered through the River Otters of South Florida: Otter Research and Otter Education Programming, is dependent upon assistance from volunteers. Assistance to develop and implement these programs will not only involve volunteers, but will involve educators and students at local universities and middle and senior high schools. The education programs are to be about the river otters in North America and more specifically about river otters in south Florida. The development and implementation of some of these programs are intended to involve education graduate students seeking to demonstrate their abilities to fulfill the requirements for a Master's Degree in Education.

The expenses to develop and implement these education programs are dependent upon the generosity of benefactors and the availability of grants.

The contents of the education programs will not be part of this website until development, implementation, and results are compiled.

Thank you for your patience (Victor L. Camp)
