BROOKDALE
COMMUNITY COLLEGE

NEW TRANSFER AGREEMENT!

The presidents of Kean University and Brookdale Community College recently signed an agreement bringing Brookdale into the Pathway to Kean program and mapping out 13 different transfer degrees. "This agreement with Kean University demonstrates our collective commitment to giving the students in our area every opportunity to succeed," said Brookdale Community College President David Stout, Ph.D.,

Brookdale's location in Monmouth County makes it well-positioned for students to transfer to Kean's main campus in Union or Kean Ocean in Toms River and Manahawkin. Students can also choose to study at Kean Skylands in Jefferson. Kean also has a campus in China, Wenzhou-Kean University.

Students who apply to Kean and are conditionally accepted into the Pathway to Kean program will receive support from the University as they earn their associate degree, and their records will be shared for a smooth transition to a four-year degree program. Unique to the partnership with Brookdale, students accepted into Pathway to Kean will be able to select from a dozen programs, including Criminal Justice, Psychology, Marketing, and Interior Design, that have a mapped curriculum leading them through the steps of achieving a four-year Kean degree in their major.

Kean is recognized as a transfer-student-friendly institution and has been named to the Phi Theta Kappa (PTK) Transfer Honor Roll for several years. Students in the Pathway to Kean program benefit from the most affordable tuition/fee rates in the state among four-year colleges, combined with additional affordability from low tuition rates at the county college level. Several county colleges across New Jersey have joined the Pathway to Kean program in recent months. The program will continue to expand over the next two years.

Kean will be hosting a Virtual Visit on Thursday April 8th at 11:30am!
