Quit & Stay Quit Monday (QSQM) Fact Sheet

This is a grant funded pilot project designed to utilize the QSQM messaging in nine West Virginia counties. The QSQM campaign encourages those that use tobacco to quit, increases awareness and use of the West Virginia Tobacco Quitline, and assists worksites in creating tobacco free workplace policies.

Key features of the program:

- Focuses on Boone, Cabell, Kanawha, Lincoln, Logan, Mason, Mingo, Western Putnam, and Wayne counties,
- Utilizes social media, billboards, health departments, and workplaces to disseminate the Quit Now messaging,
- Provides weekly cues of cessation messages through a variety of media,
- Project runs October 2021 - September 2023,
- Health departments and select businesses implement the project for 12 weeks, and
- Tobacco users/quitters see each Monday throughout the year as a weekly fresh start that supports a commitment to quitting tobacco

Key partners in the project:

- Coalition for a Tobacco-Free West Virginia
- Cabell-Huntington Health Department
- West Virginia Tobacco Quitline
- Monday Campaigns

Desired outcomes:

- Increase awareness and utilization of Quitline services - coaching and nicotine replacement therapy in the 9-county target region,
- Offer support to workplaces to develop and implement tobacco free policies, and
- Bring West Virginia smoking rates down and closer to the national average, almost 10% lower (25% vs. 15%)

Making Monday the Time to Quit

Starting the Quit & Stay Quit Program

Quitting the use of tobacco is one of the most important health decisions an individual can make. The 12-week social media calendar is designed to support individuals as they begin to contemplate and prepare to quit tobacco using the Quit and Stay Quit approach to cessation. The program encourages smokers to use Monday as the day to create a quit plan or set a quit date and can help them to see each new week as a recurring opportunity to start fresh.

By using this progressive series of resources, your audience can start each week with a clear goal and actionable steps to support them as they quit smoking. When used together with the QSQM series, program participants will be equipped with the tools to quit tobacco, build a support team, and keep their quit. Research shows that people who commit to a healthy behavior change on Monday describe a higher likelihood of continuing that activity for the rest of the week.

The toolkit includes 12-weeks of visual assets with links to supplementary articles and actionable steps designed to introduce tobacco users to the benefits of quitting, the physical and physiological changes they can anticipate, and the essential elements to a successful quit plan. In addition to the weekly materials, we recommend that participants who are attempting to quit utilize the Monday Check-in tool Quit and Stay Quit Monday Weekly Check-in Tool \(mondaycampaigns.org\) to reflect on learnings from the prior week and refocus on the weeks and months to come.

Use this toolkit to supplement on-going tobacco cessation programs that your Health Department may have in place. The materials are meant to be shared through a variety of different digital and print communication channels. The social media posting graphics and URL web addresses can be cut-and-pasted into digital messaging such as email, company websites, or social media feeds, or printed out for signage and bulletin boards. We recommend using Monday as the day to send out these weekly cues because research shows individuals are more likely to adopt healthy habits towards the beginning of the week.

Quit & Stay Quit Monday Check List

Introduction

The Coalition for a Tobacco-Free West Virginia (CTFWV) and the Cabell-Huntington Health Department are partnering to pilot the 12-week “Quit & Stay Quit Monday” (QSQM) tobacco cessation tool for public health developed by The Monday Campaigns.

The goals of the campaign are to:

- Encourage those that use tobacco to quit through motivational messaging and support.
- Increase awareness and use of the WV Tobacco Quitline.
- Offer a feasible starting point to consider adopting a worksite tobacco free policy.

We hope that you receive inquiries from staff and the public about quitting tobacco because of this campaign. If you are approached by staff or the public wanting to quit tobacco, please refer them to the West Virginia Tobacco Quitline, 1.800.QUIT.NOW (1.800.784.8669) or the Quitline website at <https://wvtobaccoquitline.com>.

If someone has questions about the QSQM Campaign, please refer them to quitmondaywv@gmail.com or visit us on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/quitmondaywv>.

Below is a checklist of activities for the campaign. This is meant to guide you as you deliver the campaign to your employees and the public.

Check List

Gearing Up

- ☐ Select a coordinator who will oversee the 12-week program
- ☐ Schedule a kick-off announcement to launch the campaign.
- ☐ Be sure to use the Quit and Stay Quit Monday Video on YouTube at (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AMFhvdeGvx&t=7s>) in your announcement and describe why your organization is interested in the Quit Monday campaign.
- ☐ Print and post weekly QSQM posters in high traffic areas (breakroom, waiting rooms, front-desk/lobby, etc.).
- ☐ Review the QSQM social media calendar so you're informed about what digital and print materials to share each week.

Off to the Races!

- ☐ If your health department manages several channels (Facebook, email, website) ensure that the same message is distributed across all of them during that week.
- ☐ Ask anyone that you assist with their quit attempt if they would like to be featured on the QSQM page of the Coalition for a Tobacco-Free West Virginia website to share how a person can progress during their quit journey (this can be anonymous). If they do, please send their testimonials to quitmondaywv@gmail.com or ask them to contact us at that email address. The QSQM team will create text boxes of these quotes that can be shared during or after your campaign, as a source of additional motivation.
- ☐ Throughout the campaign, check email, website, and social media data to see how the campaign is performing. Confirm that distribution is consistent with campaign specifications and document information on the QSQM data tracking form.

Winding Down

- ☐ Request that all staff complete surveys immediately after Week 12. The QSQM contact will provide the survey to you.
- ☐ After Week 12, compile social media data and prepare to submit surveys to QSQM WV to receive the final funding incentive.
- ☐ Congratulate quitters on participating for 12 weeks, and encourage them to continue their commitment to quitting by subscribing to the QSQM weekly newsletter: <http://quitmonday.org/subscribe-to-our-newsletter>

HEALTH DEPARTMENT DATA TRACKING

The Coalition for a Tobacco-Free West Virginia (CTFWV) in partnership with Cabell-Huntington Health Department received grant funding to pilot the Quit and Stay Quit Monday (QSQM) Campaign in nine WV counties. As a requirement of the grant, we must collect data and measure project impact. One of the questions we are trying to answer is whether tobacco users who see the QSQM messaging are making calls to the quitline. We need to know how many people are seeing the materials and ask that coordinators document the efforts of the health department to disseminate the QSQM messaging, both paper products and electronically. For questions about this document and to turn in completed documents at the end of the 12 week program, please contact lindaholmstrand2@gmail.com Thank you!
