

View of the A-J F+M

Thank you for taking a walk through our history!

From here the Atkins-Johnson Farm has almost always been visible. Dating back to the 1820's, onlookers for the Bonnet festival and parishoners for the Big Shoal Primitive Baptist Church meetings have occupied what is now the Big Shoal Heritage Area. Today this picturesque view can still be appreciated year-round. Below are pictures of the museum during all four seasons and other points in history.
