

Barbara Hughes

Founder, CEO of Baly Ha Na, LLC

In 1992, I began a business consulting firm in Boston, MA whose focus centered around people having more fun going to work, and to level the playing field of opportunity. It was always more fun if people were learning, had the tools they needed, were being treated with equal respect, and there was a genuine compassion for the people. Great results inevitably followed.

Over the years, my natural love for music, fun and people, evolved into an entertainment company whose mission was to unite, educate and heal."

What I learned over the years, no matter where I lived, who I met, and how diverse it "seemed" we all were, our core desires and needs are truly the same and one. And how limited would our potential be, if each person's unique piece of the puzzle wasn't allowed to be placed. Everyone has a sacred gift and voice to share. Baly Ha Na is dedicated to creating a "Safe" space and "Process" for that beautiful creative spark to shine.

With gratitude and "A FUN A BUN DANCE WORLD....FOR ALL!"
