Your news & updates

from the Peninsula Property Owners Association

A snow and ice storm is expected for this Sunday and if the forecast is correct, your PPOA Board wants you to be prepared for possible power outages and treacherous driving.

While most of the roads in the Peninsula community are public and the responsibility of the Town of Cornelius, the PPOA has already begun “pre-treating” trouble spots on the few roads or drives which are private and maintained by the community. These spots include sloped areas leading on/off Jetton RD such as North Shore and few others.

As with every winter storm, we expect folks will want to enjoy the usual sledding and adventures on the large hill next to the golf course along Jetton RD. Be advised, the PPOA will place some stakes and caution tape in this area in order to help prevent cars from parking or driving on the common areas damaging the landscaping and irrigation.

Thank you for your help minimizing any damages during the fun.
