Letter from Maddie

Madeleine (“Maddie”) Rizzo is a graduating senior at Cannon school who lives in The Peninsula and has been nominated as Student Visionary of the Year by the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society.

Maddie and her two sisters lost their mother, Meghan, to an aggressive form of leukemia in 2017.

For the past 7 years, Maddie has been dedicated to funding research for leukemia and lymphoma, especially research for children.

Dear friends, family, supporters, & neighbors,

The Student Visionaries of the Year campaign has already passed its halfway mark – we’re in our 5th full week of our 7-week challenge! This means that the Grand Finale is coming up in just under 3 weeks away! I have changed my personal goal to $250,000 by March 16th. I was amazed by the support from our community over the past 4 weeks and am thankful for every dollar. However, to achieve my goal and support LLS’s lifesaving mission, I still need your help!

If you have already donated, THANK YOU! I hope that you’d consider sharing my fundraising link (see below) with your contacts. The more awareness we spread and money we raise means that we’re providing hope to the patients and families battling blood cancers today.

I stand by the mission of the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society to cure leukemia, lymphoma, Hodgkin’s disease, and myeloma and improve the quality of life for patients and their families. I am personally guiding my efforts running not only in memory of my late mom, Meghan Rizzo, but also for the 43 children that are diagnosed with pediatric cancer every day. I know that my mom would agree to focus my efforts on fundraising dollars that go towards research to end childhood cancer.

Things that I have learned is that every dollar counts and that the more we come together people have shared their own stories of how this has affected their lives. I am so grateful for those that have shared their stories. It helps me feel less alone and more committed to finding a cure.

A larger than life thank you to our sponsors for making this effort a reality!

If you haven't had a chance to donate yet, you still have time! Donations are tax-deductible and take just a few minutes via my personal fundraising page.
