2020 New York Report

ALICE — an acronym for Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed. ALICE represents the growing number of households in our communities that earn enough to be considered above the Federal Poverty Level (FPL), but do not earn enough to afford basic necessities.

You can make a difference.

Each individual action you take will help increase public awareness about ALICE. When combined with similar actions taken by others, our collective effort will help rebuild the ladder of opportunity for thousands of ALICE families living in New York.

In Clinton, Essex, and Franklin Counties, approximately 4 out of every 10 people fall below the ALICE threshold.

That equates to 65,905 households in our region.

ALICE and COVID-19

The rapid spread of COVID-19, is exposing critical areas of need for our economy, health care system, and education capacity during a national crisis. No one is immune to its direct or indirect effects, but ALICE families are particularly vulnerable to hardship from both illness and economic disruption. We see the impact in children's ability to engage in learning, parent's ability to adapt to new working protocols, the impact on senior health and so much more. ALICE, by the very definition, did not have funds available to them to survive this health and economic crisis. In order to ensure economic stability for all, we must prioritize our efforts to support ALICE households.
