READING NOOK

MSNBC legal commentator Elie Mystal thinks that Republicans are wrong about the law almost all of the time. Now, instead of talking about this on cable news, Mystal explains why in his first book.

Allow Me to Retort is an easily digestible argument about what rights we have, what rights Republicans are trying to take away, and how to stop them. Mystal explains how to protect the rights of women and people of color instead of cowering to the absolutism of gun owners and bigots. He explains the legal way to stop everything from police brutality to political gerrymandering, just by changing a few judges and justices. He strips out all of the fancy jargon conservatives like to hide behind and lays bare the truth of their project to keep America forever tethered to its slaveholding past.

Mystal brings his trademark humor, expertise, and rhetorical flair to explain concepts like substantive due process and the right for the LGBTQ community to buy a cake, and to arm readers with the knowledge to defend themselves against conservatives who want everybody to live under the yoke of eighteenth-century white men. The same tactics Mystal uses to defend the idea of a fair and equal society on MSNBC and CNN are in this book, for anybody who wants to deploy them on social media.

LaChia Bradshaw Nominated by Governor to Serve as Burlington County Prosecutor

GDV is proud to celebrate the historic nomination of LaChia Bradshaw as Burlington County Prosecutor. Prior to being nominated by Governor Phil Murphy, Acting Prosecutor Bradshaw served as a Senior Assistant Prosecutor in the BCPO Major Crimes Unit, Special Victim's Section. It was in this role that she developed a passion for zealously advocating for the rights of women and children who are survivors of physical or sexual violence. She also supervised prosecutions from the initial investigation through trial for homicide, kidnapping and other offenses.

It is anticipated that a confirmation proceeding for Acting Prosecutor Bradshaw will be held in the near future by the New Jersey Senate. Upon confirmation, she would become the first person of color and the first woman to be approved for a full, five-year term as prosecutor in Burlington County.
