UPDATE ON EMPLOYEE REPORTING

A Message from the General Manager and Chief Engineer

Date: May 26, 2021

Fellow Employees –

Yesterday we announced at our Board Meeting that we are slowing down our plans for a general return of our telecommuting employees, which was previously scheduled for June 14th. We do not have a new date planned at this time.

The public health guidelines that govern mask requirements, employee spacing, our elevator and office capacity, and other key work factors are in flux at this time, and it makes the most sense to see where these guidelines land before we structure our return to work plans. In addition, the availability of childcare after schools let out for the summer may continue to impact employees.

As new COVID-19 regulations unfold, we will also be reassessing our business needs to ensure that all aspects of our work are being accomplished. As always, we will continue to work closely with our labor and management association partners. More information will be coming out on our return-to-work plans and work policies as the situation evolves.

Thank you for continuing to work hard to serve our customers and for taking the steps needed to protect yourselves and each other. I encourage all employees to take advantage of our vaccine programs for themselves, their family members, and their school-aged children 12-years and above. Protecting our employees and their families will be a key factor in protecting all members of our workforce as we plan for a future return to more normal working conditions.

Martin L. Adams
General Manager and Chief Engineer
