

Christy McDonald

Christy McDonald is a visual storyteller who travels extensively using documentary and street photography to more deeply engage with the people and places she explores. Wandering off the usual path, she observes the details of daily life while seeking out images that reveal the unexpected and varied beauty of humanity and the spirit of a place. Christy also has ongoing projects in the Middle East, the California Central Valley, and a series of images of water from the perspective of a salt water swimmer. Based in Berkeley, California, Christy holds a B.A. in Art (photography) from UC Berkeley and is a member of the Rolls and Tubes Photographic Collective. More of her work can be seen at christymcdonald.net and @see_ccc_sea_insaltwater on Instagram.
