Please do not ask a teacher to be included in the class if you were not assigned that class. If you have any questions about class assignments, please speak to the registrar, Dianne Pearce, who has authority to add students to a class.

- Cancellations made before July 31, 2021: $25 processing fee will be deducted from the registration refund.

However, during these pandemic times, special consideration will be made on a case by case basis by committee chairs, Becci Melcher and Betsy Mullineaux.

- Complete your Class Selections based on order of preference (first choice = #1, second choice = #2, etc.) If all of your preferences are filled, you will not be assigned to a class that day. We encourage you to select a minimum of 3 choices for each day. Only choosing one class per day does not guarantee that you will be assigned in that class.
- If you do not get assigned a class on a specific day, you may have an opportunity to sign up for a class—check available openings on the Odyssey website and contact the registrar as soon as possible to reserve!
- In consideration of the teacher and others in the class, as well as for your best weaving experience, PLEASE select classes consistent with your skill level for that particular medium (reed, ash, Nantucket, willow, etc.) These guidelines should help you decide:

- o Beginner: You may have woven a few baskets but you still need practice with basic weaving techniques and shaping.
- o Advanced Beginner: You have a basic understanding of twining, start/stop weaving, and lashing.
- o Intermediate: You can easily begin a basket. You want to learn and/or practice a new technique.
- o Advanced: You are an accomplished weaver looking for new techniques and materials.

- Late Registrations: Please include a $20 Late Fee on registrations received after the deadline (June 15, 2021).

2021 A WEAVING ODYSSEY INSTRUCTORS

Mary Annunziato
Havre de Grace, Maryland

Jackie Burke
Bel Air, Maryland

For the past six years, Mary and Jackie have partnered as “Wooly Pines,” creating and teaching their own beautiful design of the wool tree. Naturally they have “branched out” to new and exclusively designed lavender, willows, wreaths, and flowers. Their teaching has taken them to many states to teach at basket guilds, and quilt, fiber and wool shops. Jackie, a retiree from the Department of Defense after 37 years of service, has over 30 years of experience in decorative painting, and continues to enjoy making rag quilts, wool projects, and gourd art. Mary, mother of three, also has over 30 years of experience in painting and also enjoys hand sewing and basket making.

Candy Barnes
Shepherdstown, West Virginia

Candy grew up a Navy brat and met Dave on a sailing date in New London, CT. She has always been involved with crafts, starting out with sewing, knitting and needlepoint. After a basket-making class, she found her art form. The challenge of consistent form and symmetry, married with Dave’s woodwork, is what she enjoys the most.

Jan Beyma
Wilmington, North Carolina

I have been teaching and weaving baskets for over 25 years. I have taught at NCBA, GBA, KBA, Odyssey, Stateline, Guilders Weave, TBA, Oklahoma and MBO conventions, seminars and for our local Port City Guild. I enjoy weaving Nantucket baskets. I love to stimulate the interest of basket weaving and share with others the weaving tips that I’ve learned over the years. I also love learning new tips from my students. I consider myself a non-traditional Nantucket weaver as I find common items to use as molds for my classes and I usually will incorporate a twill weave of some kind into my baskets. All the wood parts on my baskets are made by my husband. We work as a team creating the baskets.

Anne Bowers
Kearneysville, West Virginia

Anne is from the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia where she works in her studio designing and teaching baskets. She was a production basket maker for many years and she brings those skills into each basket that she teaches. Ribbed basketry is her specialty, and some of her baskets have taken on a sculptural perspective in recent years. Anne has participated in many basketry exhibits and shows winning many awards for her work. This past year she produced a few baskets on huge moose antlers to be used by a floral designer for the Philadelphia Flower Show. Anne is a member of the National Basketry Organization. She has taught on 3 basketry cruises, teaches basketry widely and lectures about the woven form. She is in her 39th year of weaving and is still fascinated with the woven form.

Dianne Gleixner
Brookfield, Wisconsin

Dianne began weaving baskets in 1987 and teaching in 2004. She enjoys weaving ribbed baskets, Nantucket style baskets, twills and anything else with a challenge. She has written and published over 100 patterns. Dianne has taught in many state guilds and conventions. She is honored that her baskets have won numerous awards at basket weaving conventions around the country

Char Ciammaichella
Aurora, Ohio

I have been a basket weaver for more than 30 years - designing, weaving and teaching reed baskets. About 3 years ago I became very interested in the lapidary process of cutting rocks into beautiful cabochons to use in both jewelry and pine needle basketry. As I have worked at perfecting my coiling techniques on many pine needle baskets, I have been encouraged to start teaching this process. It begins when I collect my pine needles in Florida. The needles are dried, cleaned and then soaked in glycerin to make them more pliable for you to coil with. Finally, I classes teach the techniques that you will use to design and weave YOUR CUSTOM BASKET with selection of patterns, colors, beads etc. The baskets will start with a cabochon center that I do personally trim, grind and polish into centerpieces mounted and ready for your weaving to start! I also turn many cabochons into beautiful silver pendants through silversmithing techniques. In addition to Pine Needle baskets, I also continue to teach making chainmaille bracelets and earrings out of sterling silver jump rings!

Kathleen Petronzio
Beverly, Massachusetts

Kathy started weaving at a local class while living in South Carolina and fell in love with basketry. She quickly expanded her education while in Japan on deployment with her husband and sons. She was invited to study with local weavers and soon began actively teaching classes. She is influenced by her love of Japanese basketry as well as the beauty, tradition and usefulness of Nantucket and Shaker basketry. She has and continues to exhibit in shows across the northeastern U.S. and teaches in Massachusetts, Virginia and North Carolina.

Linda Scherz
Rome, New York

Linda started weaving baskets in the fall 1987 shortly after moving to Northern NY. Her interest in weaving quickly expanded to designing, teaching, exhibitions and juried shows. Linda enjoys working with a variety of materials, including reed, bark that she harvests, waxed linen, beads and other materials. While much was self-taught, she has attended conferences to learn other techniques and to work with other materials. Known for her intricate patterns, eye for color and incorporating different materials in her designs keeps it exciting for her. Linda has won several awards for her baskets. She teaches her designs throughout the United States for various guilds, conferences, art centers and organizations. You can see more on her website www.AdirondackBasketry.com

Joyce B. Smith
Kingsport, Tennessee

I have been weaving since 1988 and teaching for over 25 years. I prefer teaching and working with black ash and Shaker baskets. I also teach Nantucket style baskets, enjoy working and teaching with copper, red cedar and birch barks. My favorite baskets are miniatures.

Bill & Charlene White
New Bern, North Carolina
