Custom Home Building

Custom Home building is in many ways like a fine tailored suit, each is unique to its specific user. Therefore, we never repeat the same home twice. Yes, we do have several home plans we've built in the past that you can look through. But each home we build is planned and customized to fit our customers' specific tastes, needs, and budgets. Your home will be one of a kind – built from your dreams with our expertise.

Getting Started

We make the home building process simple and enjoyable for our customers. Following are a few items to get started. Bringing these items to your first meeting with us will speed the process along and help us quickly understand your needs and desires. We love helping our customers take their dreams from a file folder of clipped pictures through the design phase and into reality.

Construction Loan Pre-Approval – Having a construction loan pre-approval will speed your building process and is necessary when planning the size and finishes of your home.

Determine your budget – Knowing exactly what budget fits your life will be a big piece in designing and building a house that is comfortable to live in and suits your needs. Victory Fine Homes has built many houses. We know what specific parts and pieces of homes cost. Combining your budget parameters and design ideas with that breadth of knowledge will give you confidence in your building plan.

Complimentary Building Site Evaluation – If you currently have land or are seriously considering a certain lot, Victory Fine Homes is happy to help you evaluate it. We will assess the best placement for building and estimate excavation costs based on site specifics. Victory Fine Homes experience can help you avoid potential building problems and unforeseen high costs. Contact us to discuss a site evaluation today!
