

The QB Camp...

Unlike other football camps focusing on multiple positions, The Quarterback Camp will focus on providing QB fundamentals and leadership! Our camp will provide players of all ages and skill levels with the tools to realize their potential in football or life.

Life lessons will also be taught during our time with campers. We're educators first, so following our camp with a report card on each camper's performance is important, which sets us apart from other football camps.

We welcome all aspiring football players to our camp, especially novice players. A player will change playing positions several times over a football career. My first position in youth football was as an offensive and defensive lineman. Why? Because most youth coaches have limited time to build a team and place players into positions based on size first. Depending on our campers' age, their size shouldn't matter.

We also believe it's important early in identifying a player's development goals. It's okay when you're young to dream of one day playing college football or reaching the pinnacle of the National Football League (NFL) unfortunately, most players' careers end in high school.

"In the US, there are just over a million players at the high school level. Of those, 73,712 make it to the NCAA level, representing just 7.3% of the talent pool. At any time, just over 16,000 are draft eligible, only 1.6% of that college player pool." (The NFL, 2023)

Coach believes there are five things that "Separate each player from their Peers."

1) Work ethic! 2) Size & Strength 3) Speed 4) Cognitive Ability 5) Passion

A high school football career is within reach if a camper is willing to work toward their goal of being their best football self. However, if your dream is bigger, that is great; understanding greatness in sports and life takes more effort than most are willing to give.

One of my favorite "Dream" stories is of Michael Jordan getting cut from his high school basketball team and, in my humble opinion becoming the greatest NBA player of all time.

The QB Camp motto is to "Separate yourself from your Peers!"

We will provide the tools, and your work ethic will determine your success in football and life!
