

Native Plants

Have you every thought about supporting your local pollinators? Native plants are great way to provide homes and food for pollinators like bees and butterflies. In Landscaping certain plants are bred for certain characteristics. These are commonly referred to as cultivars of an original plant. The list down below includes both original native plants (marked with an asterisk) as well as cultivars that are carried here at Schalow's Nursery.

- Northern Maidenhair Fern*
- Nodding onion*
- Swamp Milkweed*
- White Turtlehead*
- Woodbine (Clematis virginiana)*
- Larinem Park Stonecrop*
- Rattlesnake Master*
- Big Bluestem Grass
- Little Bluestem Grass
- False Sunflower
- Black-Eyed Susan
- Bee Balm
- Switch Grass
- Coneflower
- Joe Pye Weed
- Prairie Dropseed*
- Blueberries
- White Oak
- Bur Oak
- Pagoda Dogwood
- Gray Dogwood
- Sugar Maple
- American Linden
- Northern Pin Oak
- American Witch Hazel
- Chokeberry
- Serviceberry
- Red Maple
- White Pine