Romantic Drama

LOGLINE: Against all odds, a young couple discover that while love may not be enough, it can be everything.

College graduates Frances and Shalin have been together since high school, in spite of the fact that Shalin's traditional Indian parents have yet to meet the girl he loves. Days before Shalin leaves for his Peace Corps stint in Peru, he finally introduces Frances to his parents. Though it does not go well, Shalin promises that when he returns, he and Frances will be married. They plan a lifetime of adventure, altruism and joy.

But two months into his Peace Corps mission, Shalin's persistent cough sends him to the doctor where an x-ray finds a mass in his chest which turns out to be an aggressive cancer! Together with Frances and his family, Shalin vows to beat this adversary and have his dream life. Treatment goes well...

...Until it doesn't. As quickly as he was on the mend, Shalin is diagnosed as terminal. After a complete meltdown, where Shalin screams out, "Why me?" he accepts his fate and chooses to live until he dies. but needs an answer to that deeply personal question.

Though time is short, Frances and Shalin decide to have a wedding to proclaim their love before their family and friends. However, his question lingers... Why me? With love, acceptance and honest joy, will Shalin find the answer and be at true peace?

Based on the true story of Shalin Shah that became a global phenomenon, See You at Sunset will fill hearts and change lives.
