

Barlisa Enterprises, Inc., is women owned and operated since the company was established in 1996. Business services include printing, signs, banners, data entry, graphics, desktop publishing, website creation and hosting, newsletters and other layouts for small business.

Over the years we have expanded the business to new opportunities such as consulting service for POA's. We realized there was a need for self managed POA's to maintain their communities at an affordable price other than hiring a management company. We came to that realization after years of volunteering and donating to our own and surrounding communities.

Management companies are definitely the best way to go if the community can afford it. Let us offer another alternative for those communities who cannot afford it...Barlisa Enterprises, Inc.

We are not only a business; we are property owners, residents and board members. Compiling the information, education, and knowledge we have experienced for 25 years, we now bring it to the self managed POA's in a complete package.

POA Board of Directors (a volunteer position with no pay) is responsible for managing and maintaining the everyday duties of the Association, which is a "BUSINESS". Smaller or older POA's may not be aware of how to maintain and manage the POA as it should be. That is where we come in.

Pricing is based on your needs and affordability. Need assistance? We would be delighted to work with you and your community.
