All In The Family

"My two Inspirations are my children and my community. I want to leave a legacy for our future and my wife. My wife is allergic to berries and citrus, and we did alot of research on ingredients that are good and bad for your skin and hair. Long story short, we went from making festive baskets, to making our own products with NO fragrances or chemicals. Nothing but black body wash & shampoos, body butter cream (good for babies, dry skin, Eczema and more) I use only the best for my wife our grandchildren, and we will use the best for you also."

Products for the Family

Melanated Natural Essentials is a black owned line of 100% Natural hair & skin care products, brought to you by the originators of Always Gift Baskets, Damion & Dametria Owens.

Originally known as Always Gift Baskets & Natural Essentials (AGB), we are a family owned & operated health and beauty brand committed to promoting self love within the black community by providing them with top quality, health conscious, hair and skin products.

Our family is passionate about our culture and heritage so much that each of our products pays homage and celebrates it.

Community Events

In addition to providing you with great quality products, we also do our best to educate our community on living a healthier and more natural lifestyle. We offer an intimate workshop series called, "Going Natural," where we introduce you to our products and how to get the best results when transitioning into a new lifestyle.

We also never pass up opportunities to engage with new audiences around the Lowcountry!

Who We Are

Exquisite Enterprises Inc. is a media & community conglomerate dedicated to sharing knowledge & information in the most creative ways possible. We believe there is power in knowledge, and feel it is our duty to actively share and provide platforms for others to do the same. One of those ways is through our work with local businesses & community organizations, through our creative services agency, Exquisite Solutions.

Exquisite Solutions

Exquisite Solutions focuses specifically on working with new, existing, businesses and organizations. We assess areas of improvement, and work with them to create efficient plans to reach their full potential. Whether you are just starting out, or rebranding, or just looking to make some changes, we are here for you. One of our areas of focus is brand representation. We create items that best represent your brand, and values, to best attract new business. In this brochure, you'll find pricing on those specific services.

Exquisite Enterprises is a media and community conglomerate in the Charleston area, working to better our community and share knowledge in the most creative ways possible. Exquisite Enterprises Inc was founded in March of 2013, with one of our subsidiaries, So Exquisite Charleston Magazine.

We stood firm on premise that we were a publication that was by the people, and for the people, and with that we expanded into what we are today. "I grew up in, what would be considered, one of the worst neighborhoods in Charleston. But what was supposed to hinder my spirit and discouraged me, only inspired me and motivated me to want more for myself, but also for my community," said our founder Kimberly Bowman. Since her days of growing up in Charleston, Charleston has become an industrious, cultural melting pot for people all around to visit, retire, and set up shop.

We take it as our duty to preserve what's most vital to what makes Charleston so incredible: Its people and culture. Through out work, we hope to empower, inspire, and educate Charlestonians and keep our communities alive. We do this through 6 subsidiaries enclosed.

Exquisite Internet Radio is the soap box of the Lowcountry that features music and original podcasts from creatives around the Southeastern Region of the United States. Our music rotation is a daily mix of the latest hip hop, pop, old school, alternative, and a number of other genres. The podcasts are focused on a number of topics such as politics, community engagement, social commentary, and so much more.

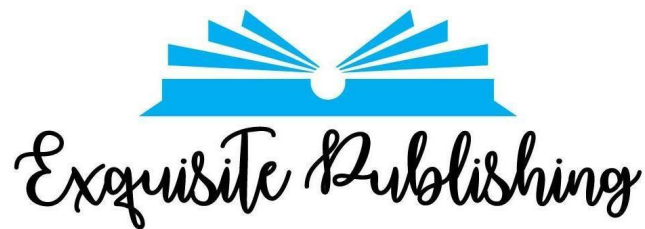

So Exquisite Charleston is our online & digital magazine. Here is where we educate the community on topics and people that they need to know. We interview leaders in the community, as well as keep the community aware of what's happening around town.

Exquisite Solutions

Exquisite Solutions is our creative services agency. We specifically work with new, and existing, professionals on developing their business & brand. We focus on marketing & branding for your organization, offering services such as social media management, website building & management, graphic design, content creation, business coaching, and so much more.

Exquisite Minds our creative space at our offices where we allow professionals and creatives to come and build. Whether you need an intimate location for your next small gathering, workshop, or a quiet place to work or meet with clients, we are here for you. This space is intended to empower these individuals with the tools they need to be successful.

Exquisite Publishing is our self publishing company where we work with authors looking to self publish their work. We educate you on the ins and outs of the publishing industry, while working with you to prepare your book for publishing. Services we offer include: ghostwriting, cover creation, & proofreading.

Exquisite Kids is our 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that is focused on helping kids dealing with self esteem & self confidence issues. We have a number of community initiatives dedicated to empowering students and educating the community on issues that can cause these issues, including bullying.

Charleston's Only Caribbean & West Indian Grocery Store

Our 20 years in the Lowcountry have brought us so many blessings, along with the incredible customers we've been able to bless with our delicious food and wonderful service. To us, our customers, and our communities, are our family. So it is our duty to ensure we provide you access to quality products that will make you more self aware, and feel great.
