

This story begins with a young girl telling the world her dream on social media, that goes viral. Her dream was to gather all nations in a place in Arkansas to put down their hatred and recreate Manataka & the day of Pentecost. In so doing they called the Finished One. The Finished one hears their call and comes down from its highest dimension. When the Finished One comes it sees the world as it is in 2020 during the pandemic. This Finished One wants to find out what happened to make this world that called it & find out how it is connected to the people. It promises to change the world in one day. However, what the Finished One does not know is that the world it came to was a virtual reality world. The finished One judges the wicked and charges to men to “make it right”. Then it calls forth music and all those that this young girl had seen in its lifetime to guide her through music and art to assure she does not go into the music industry and fulfill her destiny to gather the people as she had done before. Then the finished one attaches itself to everyone it sent to make sure it is done as it commanded. This would turn into a reward if they served well.

The finished one then opens a time traveling wormhole and they all go back in time with all their memories in- tact except the girl. She had to do it blindly and willingly again. Although she was given a gift to see the future. They jumped back many times creating music to guide them all to that specific moment. Then they end up in the back of a truck headed somewhere. The Finished One was incarnated as a man in all that time. As a man he was pushed off of the back of a truck, by one of the two men that were charged to “make it right”. This put the Finished One into a coma in hospital unable to continue its task. The powers that be saw that as an opportunity to use time travel to go back to the precise moment before the time jump into the wormhole. They kept the Finished One in the hospital and changed the consciousness to a female body and erased memories.

They created a reality based TV show in the real world based off the captivity of the finished one being held in captivity. She was unaware that she lived in a virtual world. She didn't know she was being watched by millions of people. She goes on about her life in captivity. She has forgotten everything. The virtual reality is set against her ever escaping from it. Her captivity begins from the age of 9 years old. She thought she had escaped from evil but actually ran right into her captor's trap to make her a reality TV show.

The Finished One is actually from a different reality created by all the time manipulation from powers that be. The Finished One is actually what is to be considered God by Christians and the virtual world. The God concept was actually created by a Dr. from the real world. This Dr. was part of the creation of the virtual world and trained people to be prepared to go through it seamlessly. The virtual world was actually created as a new way to reform prisoners. It was a second chance for them to prove and earn their old lives back in the real world. They were to earn an honest living and earn $250,000 or more to pay the debt to get their old lives back. They could not do anything illegal or they would not be able to get out. Someone is always watching. The Dr. knew she would eventually end up in the VR world because she could see the future. She made a plan to make pacts with prisoners that if she let them keep their memories if they promised to help her. She also had an affair with a prisoner who swore life and limb to help her if she ended up inside that world. The powers that be in the real world got greedy and lied to the prisoners about their agreement. They turned this virtual world into a commerce that made them rich and people getting out was never their plan. The Dr. found out and started making a handbook to guide her and others in this virtual world to be in agreement of the principals she wrote in the bible. These principals were to help her remember her life in the real world and how to create heaven on earth in the VR world. The powers that be in the real world found out and began tampering with it to throw her & others off. The Dr. made a plan that no one knew about and that was to add her DNA to every one of the people she made a pact with in the VR world so that they would be connected to her. When she found out the prisoners were being recycled back without their memories there was nothing she could do.

Then the real world unveiled a new VR TV game show called "Once in a lifetime" which put contestants in the VR world and they had to become famous & earn their $250,000 to win the game and actually win the money in the real world. This was the only escape from the VR world, until the powers that be got greedy and would recycle them before she could get out through that way. She met a young girl that swore if the DR. called her she would remind her through song who she was. The Dr. was caught sending musicians into the game with memories in-tact and sent to the VR world as a child without memories. This young girl was the Finished One in a girl's body.

Before they found her and drove her into captivity the girl's mother knew who she was and took her to places to be tortured and initiated. This young girl did not understand that her mother was sent by her from the real world and resented her mother for abuse, rape and torture. They had trained her under hypnosis to be an assassin and to be used as a weapon, but the girl had forgotten all of it. The ones who trained her to be an assassin had a plot of their own and remained unknown. This young girl escaped her mother or so she thought. She ran right into the arms of her captors without the protection of her mother, whom she put into prison for the things she did. The girl was in captivity and never even knew it. Her life unfolded and she became violent taking revenge in the world on those who harmed her. She became a drug addict and had to overcome her own shadows of the past that haunted her, all while the world watched. She became a Christian after she found the bible she wrote. She became righteous and lived as best she could overcoming addiction, poverty, abuse and ultimately inspiring the real world in her favor. She effected the real world as they watched her overcome a great many things.

Some people in the real world sacrificed their lives to go into VR world and help her. The music was her guide always. There were people who died for her to succeed because the VR world was set against her, yet she made the best of the worst further inspiring the real world to love her and embrace her. Just when it seemed no one was getting out and the truth began to unfold during the 2020 pandemic about the VR world and there were people in the real world fighting powers that be to get her and others out, she began to get visions of a future. She shared these visions on social media and so many had come to Manataka where they brought the Finished One again. In one day the world had been changed both above and below, VR world. Then those who had her DNA and who helped her were joined to the Finished One and they became one. Those who gathered to put down their hate in Manataka were the leaders of that VR world until they could be set free by the ongoing case in the real world. The finished one would then leave in what the bible describes as the rapture. Promising to return to see progress and gather more.
