

The Royal Children

Information/character list

Fauna lost her parents when she was born and was living with her aunt since she turned 10, then she officially became the new ruler (because her relatives refused to become the next King/Queen). They died due to the shock of their child (Fauna) being a girl, since they were rulers of the fire kingdom. She was named by an aunt. Elana lost her parents when she was 2 because of being tricked by a pack of wolves, (because they had a soft heart due to being the rulers of the earth/nature/animals kingdom), Elana was raised by relatives until she was 10. Anna lost her parents because of a tornado they summoned up (air rulers tend to have lots of pride) a tornado that got out of control, and was also raised by relatives until 10. Wanda was daughter of the rulers of the water kingdom, and her parents were lost because (you get everyone's parents die okay? I mean at least the main characters) they drowned in a sea of polluted water, and Wanda was brought up by relatives.

Chapter 1 School = new friends

Pov Fuana

I (Fuana) was sent to a school for royal children that lost their parents, and I was immediately the new target for the school bullies, because of my burned clothes, and super tanned skin. The minute I walked in they started making fun of me! Like which jerk messes with me, oh I'll answer that for you NOBODY. I was super mad and wanted to send a fireball straight into that laughing face, and her minions, but I couldn't get in trouble on the first day, so I didn't. I just went to my locker and got my books out (in our world we have those even in 4th grade) and headed to English class, and I saw the mean girl sitting next to the seat that was supposed to be mine!!!! Our teacher told me to introduce myself so I did, but it didn't really matter anyways. I reluctantly sat next to the bully and noticed some other girl that also looked uncomfortable being around the bully, and they looked like they were new too so I decided at recess I would go talk to them.

Chapter 1 friend or bully

Pov Elana

I walked into the school and a girl walked up to me and said "oh look a poor little girl, awww are you lost? Do you have memory loss?? It's not St Patrick's Day girl, and this isn't a girl scouts club. I said "I know it isn't, sorry I'm daughter of the royal nature family, so it's natural to me to wear green" and she replied the mean girl got really mad and said "Don't make me look stupid and like I didn't know you, I'm gonna end your life since you even dared," and she grabbed a torch and started punching towards and I thought I was gonna die and then
