Conflict Minerals Policy

In 2010, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act became law in the United States. Under this Act, companies regulated by the US Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) are required to undertake due diligence to determine the origin of the 3TG Conflict Materials (Tantalum, Tin, Tungsten and Gold) used in any products.

As a privately owned UK company, Wessex Hydraulic Services is not bound by this legislation. However, as part of our commitment to responsible sourcing, we support the aims and objectives of the Act completely.

We are working towards ensuring that our products do not contain Conflict Materials that have been sourced from mines that support or fund conflict within the Democratic Republic of Congo, or adjoining countries.

We expect our suppliers to support our efforts to identify the origin of any 3TG minerals in products they supply to Wessex Hydraulic Services. Any minerals they source should be in a responsible and informed manner.

Where a supplier's sources are found to be in conflict zones, they will be required to find acceptable new sources, or that supplier will no longer be on the Wessex Hydraulic Services Approved Supplier List.

We will continue to work with our supplier base to help ensure that only products containing 'Conflict Free' minerals are supplied to our company.
