This is the fifth in a series of quilts featuring a hand cross stitched center medallion panel created by textile artist Jean M. Judd. Complementary and compatible fabrics are selected and then heavily hand stitched.

The fine, hand quilting complements the overall design of the piece. The yellow triangles and black frame draw your attention to the blue Angel and the blue borders draw out more of the colors in her dress. A muted Oriental print is incorporated between the gold flecked blue fabric.

The hand quilting design in the burgundy and black swirled border gives this piece it's finishing touch. The final border looks like ruffled satin.
