This quilt is a commissioned piece from three sisters who wanted a quilt for their parents' 40th wedding anniversary. The photos in the quilt are of the parents' of the anniversary couple, the anniversary couple as high school seniors, the anniversary couple on their wedding day, photos of the three daughters as children and on their wedding days, photos of the grandchildren at the time the quilt was made, a photo of the family dog, and then a photo of the couple from their 39th anniversary. As more grandchildren are born, coordinating pillows have been made to accompany the quilt. The alternate blocks are hand quilted with a feathered heart in the center and crosshatching outside of the heart. The recipients were thrilled with the quilt and take it with them when they travel to their winter home in Arizona each year. I continue to hear from them how thrilled they are with this wonderful quilt, even though it has been 12 years since they received the quilt.
