John is a junior at Georgetown studying American Studies and Spanish. Having been a tutor since high school, John is passionate about helping others succeed. He currently volunteers with elementary school kids in the Washington D.C. area, helping them strengthen their reading and writing skills. Outside of the classroom, John is a dancer, hiker, avid film and music consumer, and pet lover.