

Leo is a versatile high school student at Newark Academy in Livingston, New Jersey. Leo is passionate about maximizing education equity and a strong activist for social justice movements. Some of his special interests include humanities, sociology, geopolitics, and education.