

About Elite Paranormal Society

Our team is made up of individuals that have been involved in the paranormal field for various amounts of time. Regardless of the length of time, each member has been actively working in the field gathering real experience and documenting real unexplained activity. We are guided by integrity and the desire to help those in need. We understand the persona attached to the field and what it means for those looking for help. Many people are embarrassed to reach out for help including those that have become extremely uncomfortable in their own homes and those realizing that they may in fact have abilities.

Besides simply trying to document paranormal activity through investigations like many teams, Elite Paranormal Society goes further than most. Our team will also treat locations on an as needed basis to help the clients regain a feeling of comfort in their home or business. What seems to be impossible to many people in this field, we have been successful in turning extremely active locations into very calm locations. This includes doors slamming, disembodied voices, people being pushed or weighted down, scratches, objects moving, electronics turning on/off by themselves, strange smells, and even victim's personalities changing in a negative manner. In some cases it's not even something connected to the location, but it's actually connected to an individual. Even in these cases we are successful in changing the influence that people are subjected to. We recognize that some people have attachments and steps are taken to remove these so the victim can get back to living a normal life.

We are not doctors and understand that in certain cases the activity can seem like mental illness rather than paranormal and vice versa. Our team approaches each location as a unique situation. The effectiveness of our approach is certainly rooted in the forwardness of the client. At no point do we suggest for anyone to make medical decisions (such as stopping any medications) without consulting their doctors.

Besides treating negative locations and removing attachments we also enjoy sharing the information gained from real field experience. We hold live, unscripted talk shows each week, currently on Sundays at 12 PM and at 2 PM. The shows enable us to share our experience and knowledge and answer questions. Everyone is welcome to join us for these free talks. From time to time our team will be in certain locations and we will announce (in advance) these as open investigations. When we have open investigations, anyone is welcome to join us at no cost. People can actually join us physically at the location and investigate with us! Additionally from time to time we will hold public ghost hunts which will typically cost between $25 and $40 for each participant. Small groups are given the chance to experience unexplainable activity at locations that are known to be haunted. Our members will provide hands on training to those looking to learn how to investigate at these public ghost hunts. Finally most of our paranormal investigations are live streamed so the viewer can see/ hear for themselves- what is truly possible in this awesome field.
