Tolu's Bio

Tolu (Tolulope Akintan, BSc MBA) spent the past 25 years of his life building his career as a Business Entrepreneur. Born in Africa, he grew up in Lagos, Nigeria. He attended Lagos State University (December 1999), where he studied Mathematical Science and was a “Green horned problem solver” as an undergraduate. Tolu is a self-taught Information Technologist, certified as MCP (Micro Soft Certified Professional) and MCSE (Micro Soft Systems Engineer).

Tolu completed his MBA program at HULT International Business School, Dubai/London (August 2016), majoring in Global Entrepreneurship. He loves to solve administrative bottle necks with information technology, designing and launching various programs to solve various business logistics problems.

He has successfully contracted with International Education Boards, National Power Authorities, Real-Estate Development Agencies, various Finance and Local Entrepreneurs. He has also launched various businesses over the years, including one with the goal of “building the local society” by “building local entrepreneurs”. Tolu assists various Business Start-Ups by developing business plans, strategies, and logistics, as a Business Solutions Architect Consultant.

Tolu is a volunteer teacher at his local church and has taught for 20 years, leading various human capital developmental projects. He loves to “DANCE”, and he dreams of managing his own “free” dance studio in the future! He loves to see people dance and have fun.
