Project Hope & Fairness, Inc., is a California public benefit corporation that has 501(c)(3) status with the IRS (EIN-20-3269307). We are a volunteer organization started in San Luis Obispo, California, to assist African cocoa farmers who suffer disproportionately from the inequities in the world cocoa trade. Through equipment and support we enable African cocoa farmers to participate in the full value chain from bean to finished products to boost the incomes, education, job skills, and village quality of life.

PHF has enjoyed the support of private donors and the following organizations. We hope you will join us.
