Artisans weave ₹2.7 crore into decor for Mangalagiri's Vinayaka pandal

BANDHAVI ANNAM @ Guntur

MANGALAGIRI turned into a festive hotspot this Vinayaka Chavithi with an idol adorned with currency notes worth ₹2.7 crore.

Traders in the temple town, led by businessman Sankar Balaji Gupta and the Mangalagiri Arya Vysya Sangham, have sustained this tradition for two decades. What began 20 years ago with ₹1 lakh in contributions has grown into a spectacular display of devotion and trust that draws visitors from across the region.

The currency notes, meticulously documented, were crafted into garlands and ornaments by local artisans. "Every rupee is recorded, used for decoration, and returned to its owner after the celebrations. Devotees treat it as prasadam," Gupta said.

The pandal, open to the public from August 27 to 29, drew thousands of visitors. Security matched the grandeur, with 24/7 CCTV camera monitoring and police deployment.

Organisers proudly note that in 20 years, not a single theft or incident has occurred.

For devotees, the glittering idol represents more than opulence. "It's a symbol of faith and community," Gupta said. "Traders, families and well-wishers come together each year to seek blessings and share prosperity." After the festival, every contributor received their currency back, now imbued with spiritual significance. The event has become a source of pride for Mangalagiri, known for blending devotion, artistry and discipline into one enduring tradition.

Women's empowerment: Common Facility Centres planned across NTR

Y BRAHMAJI @ Vijayawada

AIMING to make women self-reliant and economically empowered, Vijayawada MP Kesineni Sivanath and the NTR district administration have decided to set up Common Facility Centres (CFCs) with support from the National Institute of Rural Development and Panchayati Raj (NIRDPR).

It will support SHGs by providing common infrastructure for production, processing, quality enhancement and marketing of products. CFCs are to be set up across mandals.

Four pilot CFCs are being set up at Chillakallu, Jakkampudi, A Konduru, and Nandigama. If successful, the project will expand to 295 villages. Backed by Kesineni Foundation and NIRDPR, the centres will act as training hubs. As many as 100 people, including 30 youth from NTR district, mostly SHG members, have undergone training at NIRDPR in Hyderabad.

Speaking to TNIE, NIRDPR Manager and CFC coordinator Murali Krishna said "Kesineni Sivanath met NIRDPR Director General G Narendra in Hyderabad and discussed skill training, establishment of CFCs and related measures to help SHG women. Initially, four CFCs are being set up in NTR district. These will include solar dryers for mango and other units."

SAAP clears ₹16 cr pending incentives to athletes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

REITERATING the TDP-led NDA government's commitment to supporting sportspersons, Sports Authority of Andhra Pradesh (SAAP) chairman Animini Ravi Naidu on Saturday announced that pending incentives worth ₹16 crore, left unsettled by the previous YSRCP administration, have been cleared in one go.

Addressing the media at the SAAP headquarters, Ravi Naidu said that the National Sports Day was celebrated on a grand scale at the AU Convention Hall in Vizag, with the participation of over 2,000 athletes. He assured that the government pledges to provide all necessary facilities.

"Sports quota appointments will be handled with complete transparency. Of the 421 posts earmarked for sports candidates under the Mega DSC, over 870 applications were found to be backed by fake certificates. Strict action will be taken against both athletes who produce such certificates and the associations that issue them," Ravi Naidu warned.

He congratulated athletes, coaches, SAAP officials and staff for the successful conduct of the event, which was attended by HRD and IT Minister Nara Lokesh, along with several other sports dignitaries. "For the first time, SAAP introduced the Amaravati Championship, a state-level competition held under the National Sports Day banner, which saw participation from 24,121 athletes. Our goal is to expand this to 3 lakh next year," Ravi Naidu said.

He also lauded Tampa-based NRI Yadlapalli Rakesh for adopting national-level weightlifter S Venugopal from NTR district for two years under the P-4 policy. "I appeal to other NRIs to come forward and extend similar support to athletes in Andhra Pradesh," he said.
