MONDAY, MAY 27, 2019
BEDFORD, OHIO

Bedford, Bedford Heights, Oakwood and Walton Hills

*They lived and died,
but not in vain,
for they paused with us
on their way to immortality . . .
and our world is a better place
for their pausing.*

The Memorial Day parade in Bedford is an annual commemoration reaching back to the days shortly after the Civil War. For more than a century veterans of America's wars have marched down Broadway on that special day in May, to the Public Square and on to the cemetery, paying solemn tribute to the many who have died in the service of our country.
