CITY OF CARNATION

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

Whereas, access to mobility is a fundamental part of health, safety and community connection, allowing Snoqualmie Valley residents to reach education and employment opportunities, medical services, shopping, recreation, and visit friends and family, and is one of the state's six transportation system policy goals, including investing public dollars to improve the movement of people throughout King County, and

Whereas, the average cost of owning a car was more than $12,000 per year in 2024, many people cannot afford the cost of a car, and nearly a third of the people residing in the US do not have a driver's license, either because of their age or a condition that does not allow them to drive; and

Whereas, public transportation and a strong network of sidewalks and bike paths aren't available in every community, making it much more difficult to get around, visit family and friends, and take care of everyday tasks for those who cannot or do not drive; and

Whereas, improvements in walking and bike paths can improve alternate forms of mobility in communities across King County and our state, and public driver education initiatives can help educate drivers to have patience and understanding for those traveling by means other than a vehicle; and

Whereas, transportation represents the largest source of greenhouse gas emissions in the United States, and in order to meet our state's greenhouse gas emission reduction goals, we must reduce emissions in our transportation sector; and

Whereas, going a week without driving is great way to understand how we can improve our current transportation system to better meet the needs of Snoqualmie Valley residents and improve and enhance transportation options such as transit, light rail, biking, and walking pathways as key strategies in our decarbonization efforts.

Now, Therefore, we, the City Council of the City of Carnation, King County, Washington, do hereby proclaim September 29-October 5, 2025, as

Week Without Driving

Approved this 16th day of September, 2025

SUMMARY STATEMENT AND DISCUSSION:

The City of Carnation and its residents have experienced multiple false alarms, mistimed activations, missed weekly tests, and related incidents that have contributed to fear, trauma, and diminished public trust. The false alarm on July 28, 2020, which continued for 38 minutes, was especially significant in exacerbating community concern and distress. As a result, the City of Carnation is seeking restitution in the amount of $500,000.00. The claim for damages has been reviewed by legal counsel and the Safety Committee.

RECOMMENDED ACTION: I move to authorize City Manager Ender to sign and submit the City of Seattle Claim for Damages.

APPENDIX D – Timeline of Tolt Early Warning System Incidents

This appendix provides a summary of early warning system false alarms, mistimed soundings, missed weekly tests, siren system commissioning soundings, and other related incidents. It is based on available information reviewed by the Review Team including summary documents, news articles, public surveys, correspondence, root cause analyses, and after action reports. Significant incidents prior to 2020 are included, though it is noted that additional maintenance or other undocumented issues are likely to have occurred during this timeframe. Even after 2020 when additional scrutiny was given to the early warning system, it is likely that there were incidents that have not been identified and documented herein. Accordingly, this list should not be viewed as a comprehensive history but as a representative timeline of pertinent issues that have occurred.

Timeline of Tolt Early Warning System

DECEMBER 20, 1986 (SATURDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

A single siren was activated at low volume multiple times for durations of 10 to 15 seconds. The mother of a student heard the siren, assumed the dam had breached, got her children out of class, and headed for high ground. The teacher informed the principal about the classroom incident, and the principal informed the school district superintendent that the siren had gone off. The district treated the alert as genuine and sought confirmation of the breach from the Seattle Water Department Operations Center. The Operations Center staff were unaware of siren testing but were able to check conditions on site and confirm that the dam was intact.

ROOT CAUSE:

Electronic technicians were working on the siren units which caused the unplanned sounding. The sound generating part of the unit was activated, but the compressed air sound amplifier was not.

FOLLOW UP:

Correspondence took place between the school district and the City of Seattle. The City established communication protocols to provide advance notice to the school district and residents regarding periodic maintenance and testing. While not officially documented, this may also have contributed to the eventual installation of indoor warning devices at schools within Carnation.

APRIL 19, 2011 (TUESDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

Weekly noontime test was sounded on a Tuesday rather than Wednesday.

ROOT CAUSE:

Human error. A City of Seattle worker covered a shift for another worker and got confused about which day of the week it was. The worker sounded the weekly test a day early.

FOLLOW UP:

City of Seattle established protocol to confirm day/time prior to sounding weekly test.

JULY 28, 2020 (TUESDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

Old system (Whelen sirens) sounded for 38 minutes. The system did not provide notification of the alert to the Operations Center as designed. The sirens would not respond to controls at the SPU Operations Center. Significant confusion and trauma occurred within Carnation as residents tried to evacuate.

ROOT CAUSE:

Evidence suggests that the false alarm was caused by a short circuit in a backup controller unit. During maintenance activities near the controller, a hole was drilled in the panel and it is believed that metal shavings shorted out the system. This caused the sirens to sound and the controls to become unresponsive until the short was cleared.

FOLLOW UP:

City of Seattle activated their Emergency Action Plan to notify stakeholders that it was a false alarm. This major event initiated coordination efforts between the City of Seattle, local government agencies, and the public. Emergency Action Plan notification charts were analyzed and improved. King County OEM added pre-scripted false alarm community messages to their alert system and translated them into Spanish. King County Sheriff's Office also drafted a Standard Operating Procedure for dam failure that applies to all dam assets within the County.

The City of Seattle expedited the early warning system modernization project to replace the aging Whelen sirens with new Federal Signal sirens. In the interim, additional fail-safes were incorporated into the new system to ensure operator control of the system. Spare parts for the siren system were also ordered to augment repair capability.

SEPTEMBER 9, 2020 (WEDNESDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

Old system missed weekly test.

ROOT CAUSE:

Human error. Operator did not know how to use improved testing protocol that was put in place following the July 2020 false alarm.

FOLLOW UP:

City of Seattle Emergency Action Plan activated to notify stakeholders. Additional operator training performed.

JANUARY 13, 2021 (WEDNESDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

Old system missed weekly test.

ROOT CAUSE:

A power outage occurred, and the backup communications microwave system did not allow the test to occur.

FOLLOW UP:

City of Seattle called City of Carnation in advance to let them know the test would not sound. City of Seattle Emergency Action Plan activated to notify stakeholders.

JULY 22, 2021 (THURSDAY)

JUNE 14, 2023 (WEDNESDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

Old system Siren #4 in downtown Carnation missed mail as part of the weekly test sequence. New system only provided message in Spanish.

ROOT CAUSE:

The new system was mis-programmed as part of the contractor's work to commission the new system.

FOLLOW UP:

Siren programming was corrected by the contractor after the incident.

JUNE 19, 2023 (MONDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

Multiple soundings were heard throughout the day. This included:

- A possible siren alert from the new system in East Carnation at 10:17 AM
- Multiple reports of audible clicks and garbled or glitchy tones from the old system in downtown Carnation at 10:27 AM
- A possible siren alert from the new system in East Carnation at 5:25 PM

ROOT CAUSE:

A separate, local siren is located at and operated by Camp River Ranch (owned by the Girl Scouts of Western Washington). This siren is used by the camp to warn recreationists on Tolt River of thunderstorms or other hazardous conditions and is unrelated to the Tolt Early Warning System. During the Camp's summer programs, they sounded the siren as part of their training. It is believed that the siren sounding initially reported at 10:17 AM was the Camp's siren. When the City of Seattle received initial reports of siren soundings, operators sent a precautionary stop command to the old system. It is believed that this command inadvertently resulted in a public address broadcast of the tones that were set to cancel the alerts. These tones would be like fax/modem sounds, and are believed to be the source of the soundings that were reported at 10:27 AM. These sounds were a result of the manufacturer's incorrect programming which was used to try to cancel all alerts in the old system. There is no indication that the new system sounded.

FOLLOW UP:

City of Seattle operators sent a stop command to the old siren system. The Emergency Action Plan was also activated to notify stakeholders. Public officials erroneously reported a false alarm of the Tolt Early Warning System. City of Seattle and the contractor for the commissioning of the new system investigated the incident.

While the incident was being investigated, the speakers for the new system were physically disconnected except for a short period during each weekly test. Independent continuous audio monitoring devices were also installed at all new siren locations.

JULY 3, 2023 (MONDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

Resident reported false alarm.

ROOT CAUSE:

Sounding attributed to Girl Scout Camp River Ranch siren system.

FOLLOW UP:

Unknown.

AUGUST 9, 2023 (WEDNESDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

Old system Siren #4 missed second wail sound as part of the weekly test sequence.

ROOT CAUSE:

Unknown.

FOLLOW UP:

Unknown.

AUGUST 22-23, 2023 (TUESDAY & WEDNESDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

Old system Siren #4 in downtown Carnation made alert sound (no voice) on Tuesday, August 22. Old system Siren #4 missed weekly test on August 23.

ROOT CAUSE:

Human error. A technician was onsite doing routine maintenance and accidentally pressed a button which caused the siren to sound for approximately four seconds. The following day, City of Seattle disconnected speakers due to ongoing maintenance to ensure no unusual sounds were heard during weekly testing period.

FOLLOW UP:

City of Seattle Emergency Action Plan activated to notify stakeholders of the unplanned sounding on August 22. City of Seattle called City of Carnation in advance on August 23 to let them know the test would not sound. After this incident, the decision was made to fully disable and decommission the old siren system in October 2023 at which time the new system would be fully functional. The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) was also informed of the incident.

DECEMBER 20, 2023 (WEDNESDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

New system indoor annunciator sounded at Eastside Fire and Rescue Station 85.

ROOT CAUSE:

Human error. This was an unplanned sounding that occurred as part of the contractor's work to commission the new system. Contractor did not communicate that a new connection to the speaker had been installed. Technician was unaware of new connection and did not fully disconnect the speaker prior to test.

FOLLOW UP:
Unknown.

MARCH 27, 2024 (WEDNESDAY)

DESCRIPTION:

At least one siren of the new system sounded the weekly test at 10 AM (two hours early). This caused significant confusion among City of Carnation residents and staff, and it prompted some to begin evacuating.

ROOT CAUSE:

Human error. Contractor (Federal Signal) did not follow company protocol and accidentally set off the test alert while doing remote work on the system. While accessing the City of Seattle's warning system control interface to develop user guidance, a Federal Signal employee in Illinois was unknowingly connected to the siren system's satellite communication channel. The system software includes automatic activation of the weekly test sounding and it was scheduled to run at 12 PM Pacific Time that day. The software erroneously referenced the time of the remote worker's computer (12 PM Central Time) without regard to the time zone which led to activation of the test exactly two hours early.

It was noted that not all sirens in the system were activated. Each siren's programming includes a time encryption code which should instruct the siren to ignore an activation request that is from outside the Pacific time zone. The contractor determined that the time encryption option was not activated for the affected siren(s).

FOLLOW UP:

The Emergency Action Plan was activated to notify stakeholders of the false alarm. City of Seattle sent "all clear" tone and message at 10:21 AM after verifying the dam was safe and the test was activated in error. At 10:37 AM, King County OEM sent an email to subscribers notifying them of the unplanned sounding. At the request of the City of Carnation, the regularly scheduled noontime siren test was cancelled.

On Thursday, March 28, 2024, the City of Seattle (at the request of the City of Carnation) decided to temporarily deactivate and isolate the siren system, requiring manual activation by a human operator to sound an alert. Initial revisions were also made to the Emergency Action Plan to reflect the deactivation and expedite emergency alerts through King County OEM if necessary. The City of Seattle also established an electronic survey, hotline, email, and mailers to collect information from the public.

The City of Seattle and Federal Signal performed a root cause analysis. A silent test was performed in April 2024 to confirm that time encryption programming was the cause of the mistimed sounding. As a result of the assessment, Federal Signal updated training and implementation protocols. They also deleted City of Seattle's security and encryption keys for all technicians' laptops and drives to eliminate the possibility of a repeat occurrence.
