BREAKING NEWS:

MIAMI VALLEY RESEARCH PARK REINVESTMENT

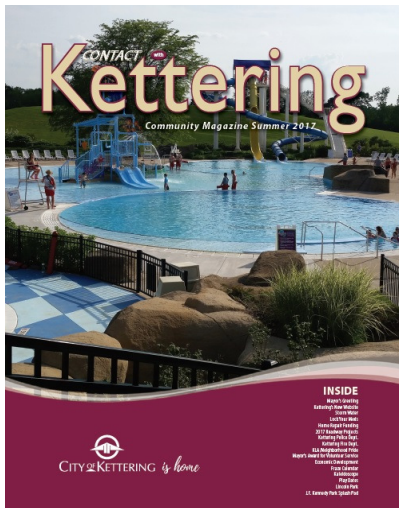

The City of Kettering and the Miami Valley Research Foundation are pleased to announce a significant reinvestment in the Miami Valley Research Park. In the coming year, Miami Valley Research Park will see a surge of improvements to both existing facilities and available land.

The City of Kettering announced today that Kettering City Council will consider authorization of a contract to purchase approximately 305 acres of unimproved land in the Kettering portion of the park.

Land Holding, LLC will assume ownership of the four existing buildings from the Miami Valley Research Foundation. The University of Dayton, Wright State University, and Sinclair Community College will continue to lead efforts, in collaboration with regional leaders, to attract innovative new organizations to the complex.

"Reinvestment in the Miami Valley Research Park is essential to the long term growth and stability of our region," says Kettering Mayor Don Patterson. "As a land-locked community, the opportunity to acquire green space appropriate for commercial development is rare and one we couldn't pass up. We are confident that this is a wise investment for the future of Kettering."

He also helps with the school's Holiday at Home float. Theodore also spent nearly 120 hours making phone calls, canvassing and registering voters for our 2016 presidential election.

has two sisters, Lillian and Vivian.

While attending school at Fairmont, Damian served as an office assistant for three years. During that time, he began helping one of the Fairmont Industries students who suffers from a progressive neurological disease. As this disease progressed, Damian stayed by the student's side every step of the way. While playing football, going to school, and working part-time, Damian still found time to assist Patrick.

After graduation in 2016, Damian came back to Fairmont nearly every school day to assist the student first thing in the morning.

Congratulations to Theodore and Damian. Your actions truly serve as a model for not only the youth in our community, but to all community members. The world is a better place because of your actions!
