2007 Annual Report

City of Kettering
Parks, Recreation and Cultural Arts Department
aquatics

Swim lesson instructors volunteered at the Red Cross, donating 36 hours — planting flowers and assembling first aid packs.

Water park and main pool passes were donated to the following organizations: Carillon Historic Park; Fairmont After Prom; Bethel Christian Assembly of God; Bellbrook After Prom; Fairhaven Church.

Aquatics achieved 100% cost recovery in 2007! Staff managed to keep expenses down and really increased profits through incremental fee increases.

Kettering Aquatic Training School — The KATS Program includes any American Red Cross Health and Safety Class that we offer in the Spring of every year. In 2007 we registered 462 participants for Lifeguard Training and CPR Professional Rescuer classes. Program revenue of $5,032.60 was generated.

KSNAP — In 2007 we reformatted the Aquatic Programs for People with Special Needs. As a result of brainstorming with the staff, we renamed the Program “KSNAP” — Kettering Special Needs Aquatic Program. The program offers 3 different categories of swimming classes to fit individuals with special needs.

— Flying Fish is the one-on-one swim lessons.

— Sea Turtles is a group lesson aimed at individuals with little to no swimming experience.

— Sting Rays is a group lesson aimed at individuals with more advanced swimming skills.

In 2007 we provided swimming programs for 588 Special Needs patrons.

The Kettering Ice Arena was one of a handful of ice arenas across the United States that were nominated for the Fritz Dietl award from the Professional Skaters Association. The award is given to recognize one facility each year as a highly effective, progressively managed facility along with outstanding programming.

Congratulations to Angie Riviello: she submitted her first article for the Professional Skater’s Association’s magazine! As a board member, one of her responsibilities will be to write a column on ratings for every issue (6 times a year). Angie was also nominated for the “Betty Berns Award,” which recognizes a coach in the sport who has gone through an extreme amount of adversity while still making considerable contributions to the field.

The Kettering Ice Arena negotiated an agreement again with the Dayton Bombers Professional Hockey team that will keep their organization utilizing the Kettering Ice Arena for the upcoming season. The 2005 - 2006 season rentals from the Dayton Bombers brought in roughly $5,000. In 2007 we brought in roughly $14,000 (number was higher than initial anticipated due to championship season), along with advertising opportunities through their organization and the Nutter Center.
The Kettering Ice Arena is currently ranked in the top 10 programs for enrollment with over 600 patrons registering for lessons each season.

The Kettering Ice Arena continues to improve its efficiency and cost recovery.

Concessions

With the incredible weather last summer and an increase in patrons, the concessions stand located in the Water Raves Water Park increased its revenue significantly. For the months of June through September, revenue was $109,683 in 2007 — $22,503 higher than in 2006.

Cultural Arts / CitySites

The CitySites program installed six public art projects in 2007, through the Kettering Art in Public Places Committee.

Three bus stop shelters designed by Dayton Architect, Mary Rogero were installed to create a visual identity for Kettering with a partnership between the Miami Valley Regional Transit Authority and the Kettering Engineering Department.

Three bronze figures, by Arizona artist Glenna Goodacre, were installed in late spring. Two full-sized figures entitled Old Man and His Dog and The Runner are located in Lincoln Park Civic Commons at Commons Way, while the third figure, entitled Ollie, was placed at the Rob Dyrdek/DC Shoes Skate Plaza in Indian Riffle Park off East Stroop Road.

The Rosewood Gallery offered a new regional competition for three-dimensional artists in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Kentucky, titled Height, Width and Depth. Gallery Coordinator, Amy Koeller Anderson accepted work by 88 artist from throughout the four state area, submitting 178 entries. This first year over 35 pieces were selected by Juror Petra Kralickova from Ohio University School of Art Galleries. We were very pleased to see that 16 of the artists selected were from the Miami Valley area. A total of $1,100 was given in cash awards by the 2007 gallery sponsor, United Arts and Education. The United Arts and Education corporation presented awards for all three Rosewood Gallery Competitions in 2007, Works on Paper, The View and Height, Width and Depth.

The Rosewood Gallery presented a special exhibition of original graphics by internationally recognized pop artist, Derek Hess, contributor to Captain America Comics. His drawings were displayed for one night only with visitors from through Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. The works sold during the evening benefited a fund raiser for the SISCA Association of Dayton organized by Amy Koeller Anderson and Derek Hess.
financial assistance program

The Kettering Parks Foundation is committed to removing financial barriers that prevent families from signing up for PRCA programs. The Foundation held a fundraiser in February to help send kids to summer camps. In 2007, the Foundation sent 28 children to camps by distributing almost $3,500. Additionally, the financial assistance program helped families participate in a variety of programs as well as purchase passes to the water park or fitness center.

fitness / wellness

With two fitness centers, community wellness and fitness continued to grow throughout the year. Total fitness/wellness attendance at the Kettering Fitness & Wellness Center increased from 87,126 in 2006 to 100,135 in 2007 (15%), while total fitness/wellness attendance at the Kettering Recreation Complex increased from 167,576 in 2006 to 171,194 in 2007 (22%). Fitness equipment was upgraded for the fourth year in a row and new group exercise classes (Pilates and Zumba) were added.

Zumba classes were introduced and overwhelmingly received by our Latin dancing devotees. The Pilates class offering was expanded (this was introduced at the end of 2006 and took off in 2007).

Group exercise classes were introduced at the Kettering Fitness & Wellness Center (Zumba and Power Yoga). These classes are held on the floor of the Trent Arena.

F.I.T. (Fellas In Training) was introduced. This is a group personal training program for men that offers the benefits of personal training at a lower cost with a support group feel. The women’s version (W.O.W.) was introduced in 2006.

Wellness screenings were introduced at Kettering Fitness & Wellness Center. New screenings were also introduced at KRC and include: Thyroid screening (TSH), Hemoglobin A1C, Skin Cancer Screenings, Resting Metabolic Rate and new Osteoporosis Screenings. Educational components were tied with all screenings. A new Hand Washing lecture was also introduced.

A partnership with Kettering Medical Center was developed to enhance/improve community health. With this partnership, resources are combined to create awareness regarding personal health/wellness issues and to improve overall community health. As a result of this partnership, two new programs were introduced:

(1) "Fresh Start" — an adult weight loss program geared for severely deconditioned individuals/obese patrons that offers nutritional counseling and exercise program development.

(2) "Fit for Function" — a step-down rehabilitation program that transitions patients with neuromuscular impairments to independent fitness/rehabilitation maintenance programs.

fraze pavilion

MOVIN’ ON UP! Pollstar, the leading trade magazine for the concert industry, ranks Fraze Pavilion 57 on the worldwide rankings of outdoor amphitheaters based on ticket sales in 2007. Fraze was 63rd last year.

TOUCHDOWN! The first Alter/Fairmont Pep Rally August 22 a complete success! Players, coaches, students and parents made up over 2,500 in attendance who showed their true spirit and community support for what’s sure to be an annual event. Pep Rally was capped off by a live broadcast by WDTN Channel 2’s Operation Football Kickoff Show.

PARTY TIME! Our Community Block Party July 11 showcased why it’s great to Live, Work & Play in Kettering. Booths throughout Lincoln Park featured City departments, interactive displays, public safety plus information from schools and the business community. The next party is May 28, 2008.

partners for healthy youth

Partners for Healthy Youth conducted a survey of all 7th, 9th and 11th graders in Kettering City Schools to identify youth issues in the community. The survey, designed and analyzed by Minneapolis-based Search Institutes, measures youth perceptions of themselves and the community. The results showed that youth in Kettering are in need of positive adult relationships/mentoring, life-skills training, opportunities to provide service, and neighborhood/community connections. Partners for Healthy Youth used the survey information to craft the focus areas of Character, Mentoring and Youth Service & Leadership.

Partners for Healthy Youth hosted Youth Month. The series of events included City Council and School Board greeters at all of the schools, recognition of students with character stars, a social event, a service event and a series of community gatherings to update stakeholders on the results of our Search Institute surveys and engage organizations in our community-wide initiatives.

Kettering Youth Council and Kettering Youth Leadership Academy hosted the Halloween Carnival at Trails of Oak Creek with great success. We had LOTS of adult and youth volunteers there as well as summer staff to re-connect with the kids! We served over 130 people at the event and made a positive day for the kids and families in that neighborhood.

parks projects

- The City received an Access to Recreation Grant from the Kellogg Foundation for $426,000 to make accessibility improvements at Pondview Park. The project should be completed by early spring 2009.
- The Land Lab program continues to grow in numbers. The total participation for the 2006-2007 school year topped 3,000! The curriculum was revised and expanded during 2007 and we have received greater interest by volunteers wishing to assist.
- With the help and support from Dor-Wood Optimists, a new observation dock was installed at Pondview. The dock, which has been popular with local fisherman, has also added to the accessibility of the park.
New rates were developed as incentives for off-peak rentals and to generate additional revenue.

The senior transportation program was expanded with the use of volunteer dispatchers. The number of transportation members doubled in 2007.

The Ohio Parks and Recreation Association selected the City of Kettering Senior Transportation Program for their highest annual award. The program was recognized for successful efforts to expand service area, increase ridership and decrease city subsidy.

The Lathrem Senior Center joined with the Montgomery County Auditor’s Office and state officials to help seniors sign up for the Homestead Tax Exemption. We assisted over 130 with their applications.

The CIL Travel program took trips to China, Branson, Oglebay and Hawaii. More than 100 seniors were escorted to these destinations. In addition to the trips, our Travel Preview for 2008 was attended by 130 seniors eager to book next year’s vacation!

The department offered 12 special events in 2007. Every event experienced an increase in attendance and many saw an increase in revenue as well.

Cops and Kids Camp — A successful venture between the City of Kettering Parks, Recreation and Cultural Arts Department, the Kettering Police Department and Kettering’s Satellite Juvenile Court. Cops and Kids Camp is an all-day sport camp that runs one week each summer and is offered as a free camp to the community. In 2007, the camp ran at full capacity serving 102 children. In addition to offering a free safe and enriching day camp opportunity, the camp accomplishes successful positive outreach for the Kettering Police Department and serves as a more constructive community service project for minor juvenile offenses. The program is partially sponsored by the United Way.

Community school facility use — The promise of additional community recreation through the Kettering City School’s Improvement Levy was made good this past year. Adult basketball leagues, youth basketball leagues, youth kickball leagues, sport camps and middle school through high school intramural programs were all successfully offered at various school sites in the community.

Community volunteer use — Through the end of October 2007, the City of Kettering Parks, Recreation and Cultural Arts Department has accrued 1,760 volunteer hours. Volunteers serve the community through sports programs as instructors and coaches. Because of this strong level of volunteerism, the PRCA Department is able to keep sport program costs to the community at a minimum, while offering high-quality instruction in a variety of sports and martial arts programs.

Special population sport programs — Two new programs were developed for special populations in 2007. Wheelchair fencing was offered as an introductory fencing program led by American Fencing Academy of Dayton Instructors. Adaptive drop-in gym was also offered on Saturdays at the KRC.

Corn Hole Leagues – Thanks to a partnership with Applebee's Restaurant, City of Kettering Corn Hole Leagues had a very successful inaugural season. Corn hole boxes were set up in a sectioned-off portion of Applebee's parking lot adjacent to the outdoor patio. Leagues played on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Applebee's ran food and drink specials to offer additional incentives to league participants.

summer camps

Camp FUNtastic, a free 8-week summer camp, served 32 children from low-income families in the Oak Creek neighborhood. The camp provided enrichment activities, meals and field trips along with positive adult role models. Participation in the camp resulted in children returning to school ready to learn, with fewer discipline and academic issues.

The sports division introduced several new camps including the Skyhawk "Tiny Hawk Camp," Skyhawk "MiniHawk Camp," Skyhawk "Beginning Golf Camp" and Leisure Sports camp that focused on recreational sports. The sports division partnered with the University of Dayton Baseball team to provide two new baseball specific camps.

Youth summer camp enrollment was up 12% over 2006 with revenue up 14%.

youth / family / preschool

Preschool Drop-In Gym continues to grow in participation. Parents are grateful to have a place to bring their children to play, especially in the winter. Our biggest day in February had 93 in attendance. Drop-in Play Day was up attendance up by 259 over November 2006.

TotLot Preschool program had a surprise inspection and was rated perfect.

Kathy discovered a new free avenue for program advertisement. She used the websites www.937moms.com and www.513moms.com hosted by the Dayton Daily News to advertise the Home Party Extravaganza. More than 230 people viewed our article and several vendors found out about the event from the website. We will continue to promote our programs and events using these websites.
